

The American Agriculturalist, in its annual review of the harvest makes estimates, which, if within bounds, makes this a profitable year for farmers. It estimates that the farm profits this year will be $1,000,000,000 more than during the recent years of depression. On the basis of present prospects the corn crop of 1891 is estimated to be 2,000,000,000 bushels; wheat 500,000,000 bushels; oats 622,000,000 bushels. In 1890 the wheat crop was 1,500,000,000 bushels, and oats 24,000,000 bushels. The total yield of wheat, corn and oats on the basis of this estimate will be 28.8 per cent. greater than last year, and 14.7 per cent. above the average of the preceding eleven years. On this basis the value of the corn crop will be to farmers $1,000,000,000; wheat, $500,000,000, and oats $250,000,000. This is $450,000,000 more than the value of these crops in 1890, and $625,000,000 more than the value of the average of these crops from 1880 to 1890, inclusive.

Cotton and rice will command better prices than last season. Cattle are worth one-third more than eighteen months ago, with other live stock in proportion. Tobacco is advancing heavily. Hops are firm at good prices. Winter fruit will command large values, and all vegetables are yielding fairly, with every indication of a remunerative market.

The export outlook was never better. Immensely increased sums will be sent to the United States for our produce. Of course, ulterior influences may interfere with these brilliant predictions, but it is almost certain that farmers will receive better profits on their crops than ever before.

Germany recently came to the front with the coat which Christ is said to have worn when on earth. It was such a good financial scheme for the town having it, that another one of Christ's coats has turned up in France. Thousands are taken in by these threadbare fakes.

The Stock Grower says: "Eighty-eight New Mexico steers, averaging 803 pounds, sold in Kansas City last week at $1.80 per 100 pounds. If any stock grower can figure out a profit in raising steers for such money he can make figures lie." There is nothing in raising scrub cattle for the eastern market.

The telegrams regarding Patti which come from Wales just now are all very nicely cooked up. The bet about her age and discovery of the old family Bible which makes her ten years younger than when she was last on the coast, is all pretty work and shows that her manager knows his business. Her voice of course "is clearer than etc., etc."

The worst thing that has been said of Mr. Harrison in a long time was the statement in one of his peculiar organs that "the President has more of Mr. Wana-maker's society than that of any other member of the Cabinet. It is quite evident that not circumstances merely but the President's personal preference brings this about." It is not strange that the Blaine boom is booming.

Speaking of a late lamented jurist, an esteemed contemporary says: "The breath of suspicion was never directed against him." That is true. His habits were such that his own breath was more than match for any antagonistic odor that ever happened to come his way.—Sacramento Bee.

Those who faced the breath of the man mentioned by the Bee will not dispute the paper's assertions.
